

FCC

Wisconsin's No Call List is an effective - and popular - effort to permit us to keep some control over our own lines of communications. Any attempt to dilute or weaken this piece of state legislation through the FCC would be a major mistake. Understand that we do NOT want any further intrusion into our personal lives via our phone lines any more than we want the FCC to permit monopolization of our communications market.